

HEA Recognition

Panel outcome

24th April 2020

Zina Ibrahim
Biostatistics and Health Informatics
IoPPN

Dear Zina, the HEA Recognition panel met on Friday 24th April 2020 and I am pleased to confirm that the panel has approved your submission for recognition as Fellow of the Higher Education Academy. Overall, the panel agreed that your application demonstrates a vibrancy and currency to teaching your modules, which exist at the intersection of rapidly changing disciplines. The variety of the professional development in teaching and learning undertaken is also evidence to your engagement with professional development. More specifically, the panel positively commented upon:

- Your integration of the professional development learning into your practice e.g. your use of Fink in design and assessment
- Your inter-disciplinary and collaborative approach to teaching but also the human dimension you are applying to this teaching
- Your conceptualisation of group work as central to interdisciplinary problem solving, and your careful designs of student encounters to bring deep, multifaceted understanding and enable the participation of every student.
- The wealth of relevant educational research literature you have brought to your application.

For further professional development, the panel suggested that you consider exploring additional forms of feedback to support your students' learning – please see <https://blogs.kcl.ac.uk/aflkings/>

You may like to attend additional workshops or conferences from the King's Academy programme of events or other bodies such as the HEA to develop your knowledge in core areas from both generic educational and disciplinary-specific perspectives.

Next steps

You will be added to the HEA database at the relevant category of fellowship. You will then receive an email to your KCL email address from the HEA with further guidance on how to proceed. If you do not receive any notifications within 10 working days, please let us know. We would like to congratulate you on this recognition and hope you continue to champion teaching and learning at King's College London.

Yours sincerely,

Dr Sabrina Poma, SFHEA

Chair of HEA Recognition Panel